Quite Nice! Moscato

Appellation: Provincia di Pavia IGT, Italy

Grape Varietal: 100% Moscato

Alcohol Content: 5.5% by volume

Vineyard Information:

Location: Situated in the fertile plains of the Provincia di Pavia, within the Lombardy region, known for its ideal climate for Moscato grapes.

Vine Age: 10-20 years, contributing to the aromatic intensity and complexity of the wine.

Farming Practices: Emphasizes sustainable and traditional methods, ensuring the preservation of the vineyard's natural biodiversity and soil health.

Winemaking Process:

Harvest: The Moscato grapes are carefully hand-harvested in the early morning hours to preserve their delicate aromas and flavors.

Fermentation: Fermented at low temperatures in stainless steel tanks to retain the grape's fresh and fragrant character. The fermentation is stopped early to maintain natural sweetness and a lower alcohol level.

Aging: Brief aging in stainless steel to maintain the wine's youthful vibrancy and freshness.

Bottling: Light filtration before bottling to preserve the wine's aromatic profile and natural sparkle.

Tasting Notes:

Appearance: Pale straw yellow with gentle effervescence.

Aroma: A fragrant bouquet of orange blossom, honeysuckle, and ripe peach, with hints of citrus zest.

Palate: Light-bodied and delicately sweet, showcasing flavors of juicy pear, sweet lemon, and a touch of tropical fruit.

The natural acidity provides balance to the sweetness, resulting in a refreshing and harmonious palate.

Finish: Clean and refreshing, with a lingering fruity and floral aftertaste.

Food Pairing Suggestions:

Quite Nice! Moscato is a versatile wine that pairs beautifully with a variety of dishes, including spicy Asian cuisine, light salads, fruit desserts, and soft cheeses. It also serves as a delightful aperitif.

Cellaring Potential: Designed for immediate enjoyment to capture its freshness and aromatic appeal, but can be cellared for up to four years for those who appreciate the nuances of a mature Moscato.

Winemaker notes: The Moscato clone common in the Provincia di Pavia area is especially prized for its aromatics which set the standard for the grape all over Italy.

Our Moscato from Provincia di Pavia is a testament to our commitment to quality and the rich winemaking heritage of Italy, offering a sip of Lombardy's sunny vineyards in every glass.
